

Lexington

www.WardMovesBoston.com

Recently Sold

Average 2005 Sale Prices in Lexington
Single Family Homes: $862,040
Condominium: $450,783

Located near Lexington Center, this gracious 1924 Dutch Colonial has a wood beamed living room, formal dining room, hardwood floors and butler's pantry. The kitchen and baths have been newly renovated. The master suite features a marble bath and walk-up attic with possibilities for expansion. The walk-out basement leads to a well manicured yard. There is a total of three bedrooms and three and a half baths.

WILLIAM RAVEIS

— REAL ESTATE & HOME SERVICES —

New England's Largest Family-Owned Real Estate Company

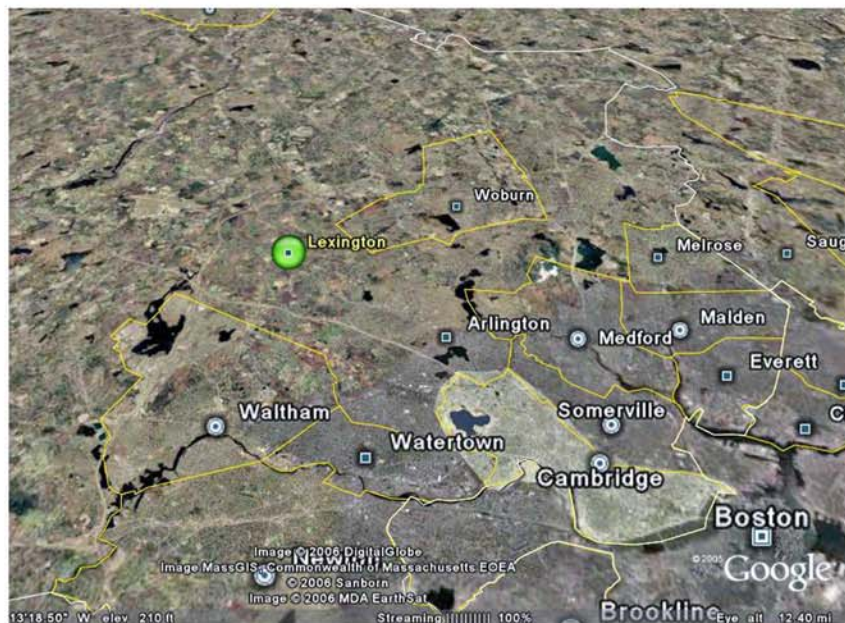

Ward Shifman

wshifman@rcn.com

617-633-7703

617-795-2998 (fax)

Distinguished as the birthplace of American liberty, Lexington has few rivals for towns that exemplify the New England spirit. The community's historic legacy centers around the famous opening battle of the American Revolution. Located just 12 miles northwest of Boston and 5 minutes from Route 128, the region's high tech corridor, Lexington affords an easy commute to major hospitals, colleges, and employment centers. The public school system is regarded as one of the state's finest. This coveted residential suburb has preserved thousands of acres of land for woodlands or agricultural use. World-class ice-skating facilities, tennis courts, indoor/outdoor swimming pools and tracks, ballfields, golf courses, and miles of multi-purpose trails are all available. The popular Minuteman Bike Path continues on into Bedford, Arlington, and Cambridge. This beautiful and peaceful suburb offers primarily large, older homes that reflect the colonial period. Most modern homes have also been carefully designed to blend with the town's historic flavor.

Important Phone Numbers and Websites

Municipal Offices

781-862-0500

<http://ci.lexington.ma.us>

Public Schools

781-861-2580

<http://lps.lexingtonma.org>